LATEST LED LIGHTING AND THE IOT AT LUXLIVE

Fulham, a supplier of lighting components and electronics, is making its debut at LuxLive this year with its latest LED lighting products for OEMs, distributors and lighting professionals. Amongst the Fulham products on display on Stand C16 will be the LumoSeries LED drivers, HotSpot Plus LED and emergency lighting drivers.

Mark Needham, Fulham's european vice president for sales commented, "This is an exciting time for Fulham as we expand our presence in Europe. From our base in the Netherlands and with new distributors being appointed around Europe, we are able to offer the lighting market some of the best LED equipment available for lighting luminaire manufacturers. As well as our extensive range of LED and emergency lighting drivers, we have also partnered with Control Network Solutions (CNS) to deliver world-class IoT smart lighting solutions based on DALI platforms which allow even greater control of power and lumen outputs from LED lighting and for optimum life."
